CAUTION

What you need to know about COVID-19

---

- It can take up to 14 days for an infected person to show symptoms
- 80% of those infected , will only show mild symptoms. 20% of these 80% won't show any symptoms at all
- Studies have show the virus can survive on surfaces 5-7 days and even up to 9 days on metallic surfaces
- The virus can travel through the air up to 2m (6ft) before setteing onto surfaces

Covid-19 has been declared a global pandemic by the World Health Organisation (WHO). Cases can be found all around the world in over 160 countries.

While the environmental survival rate of the virus is shown to be 5-7 days on regular surfaces and up to 9 days on metallic surfaces, mucus can provide an addition protection for the virus. This could prolong its environmental survival time.

To protect yourself and others, regular hand washing for at least 20 seconds with soap and waters highly recommended by WHO, the NHS, the Government and other health organisations.
